

March Art Exhibit: Bill Oyen

The West Linn Public Library will feature the paintings of Bill Oyen during the month of March. The exhibit will run March 1-30 in the library's Community Room which is open to the public when not in use, and always open on Sundays noon - 5 p.m.

Bill Oyen has experimented with different art forms for the last 40 years while working as an architect in Portland, Denver, and Seattle, but it was not until the last few years that he began to paint more seriously. Most of his current work is inspired by the traditional art forms of indigenous peoples from around the world, especially the art of the Kuna-Yala people of Central America, and the Australian aboriginal people.
